

GoodMarket Wireframes

Welcome Page

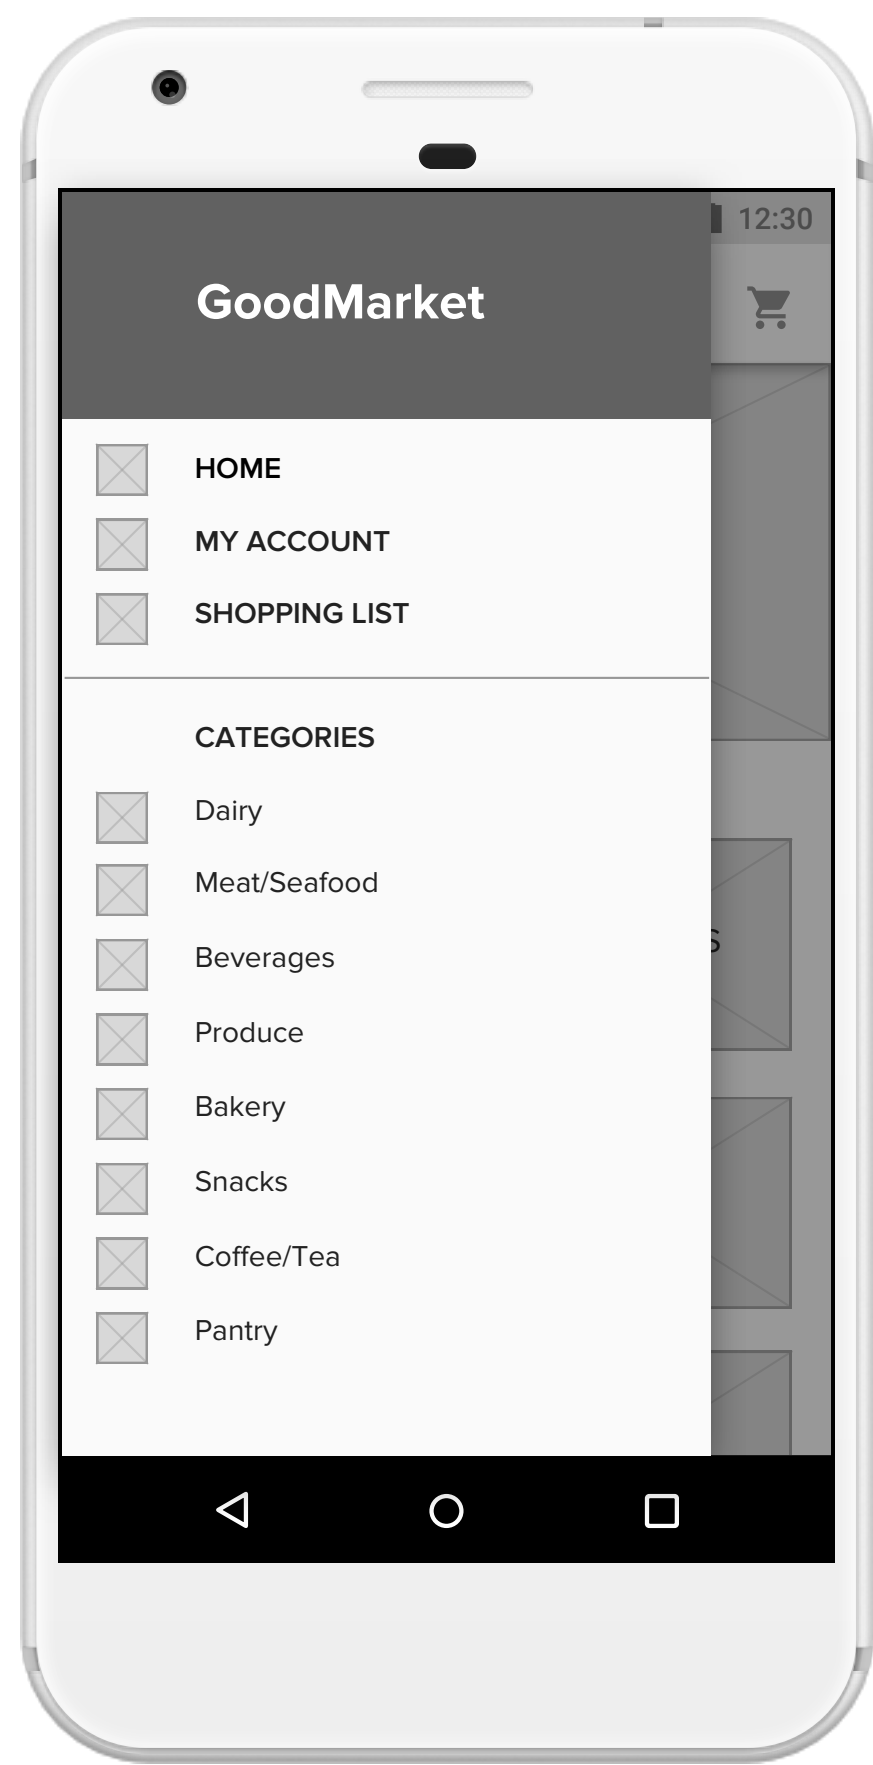

Welcome Page includes three options to access: log in - for returning users, sign up - for new customers, skip log in - sign up/log in during a checkout process.

Home Page

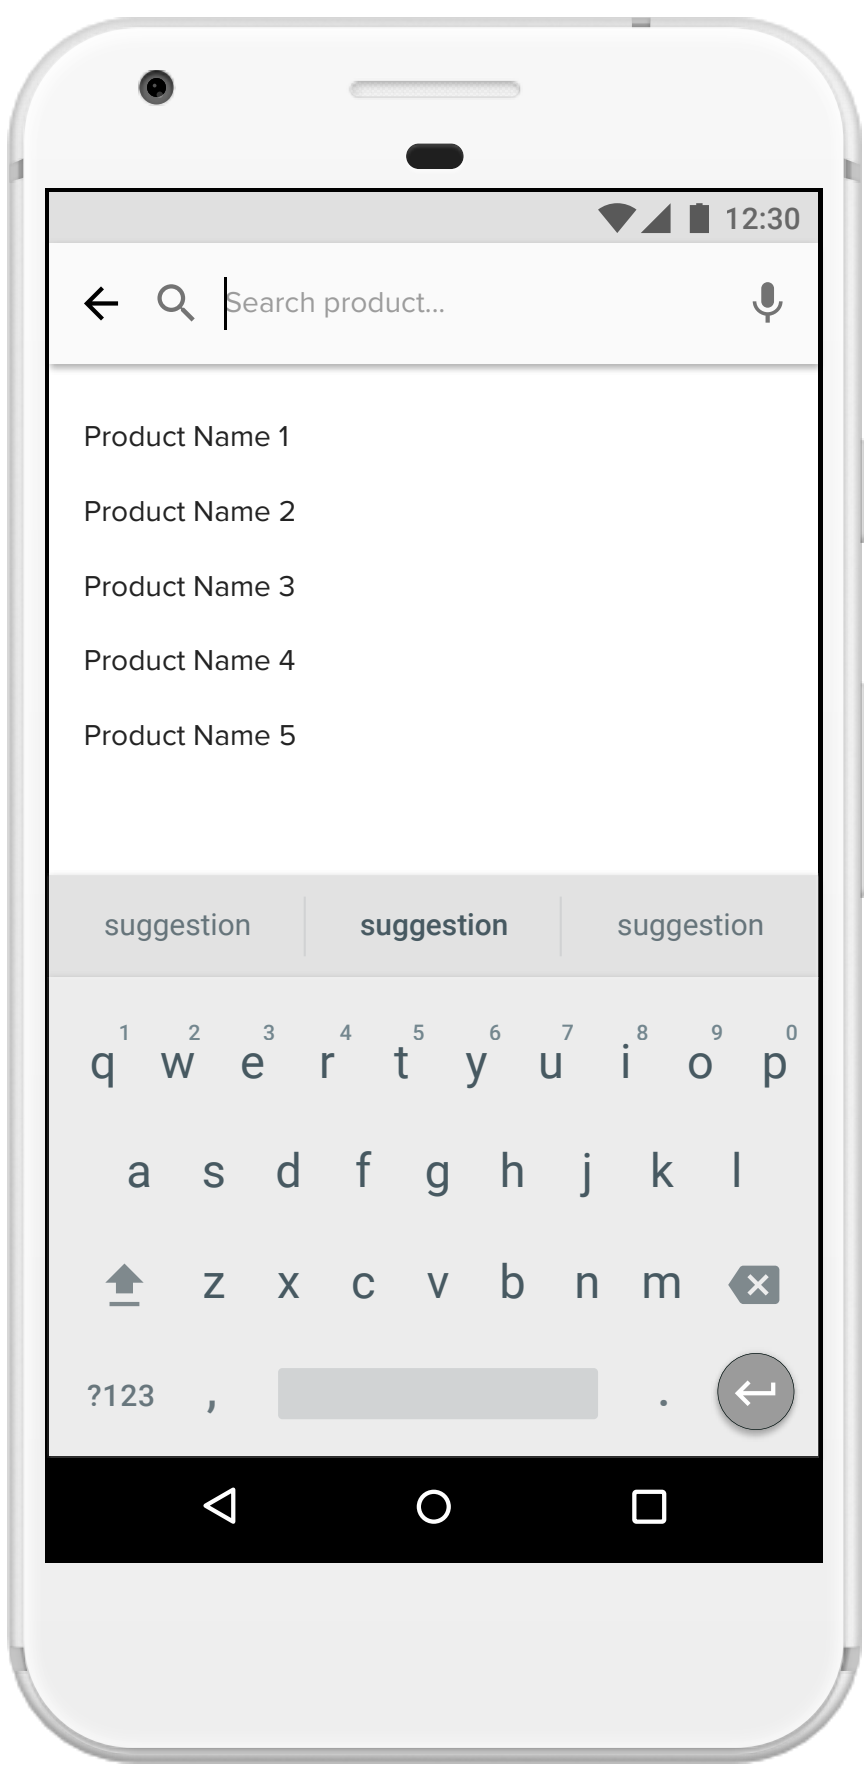

Home Page contains lage photos with offers or featured items (totally 4 slides), and direct access to the different categories of products. A user can browse categories with swipe.

Humburder Menu

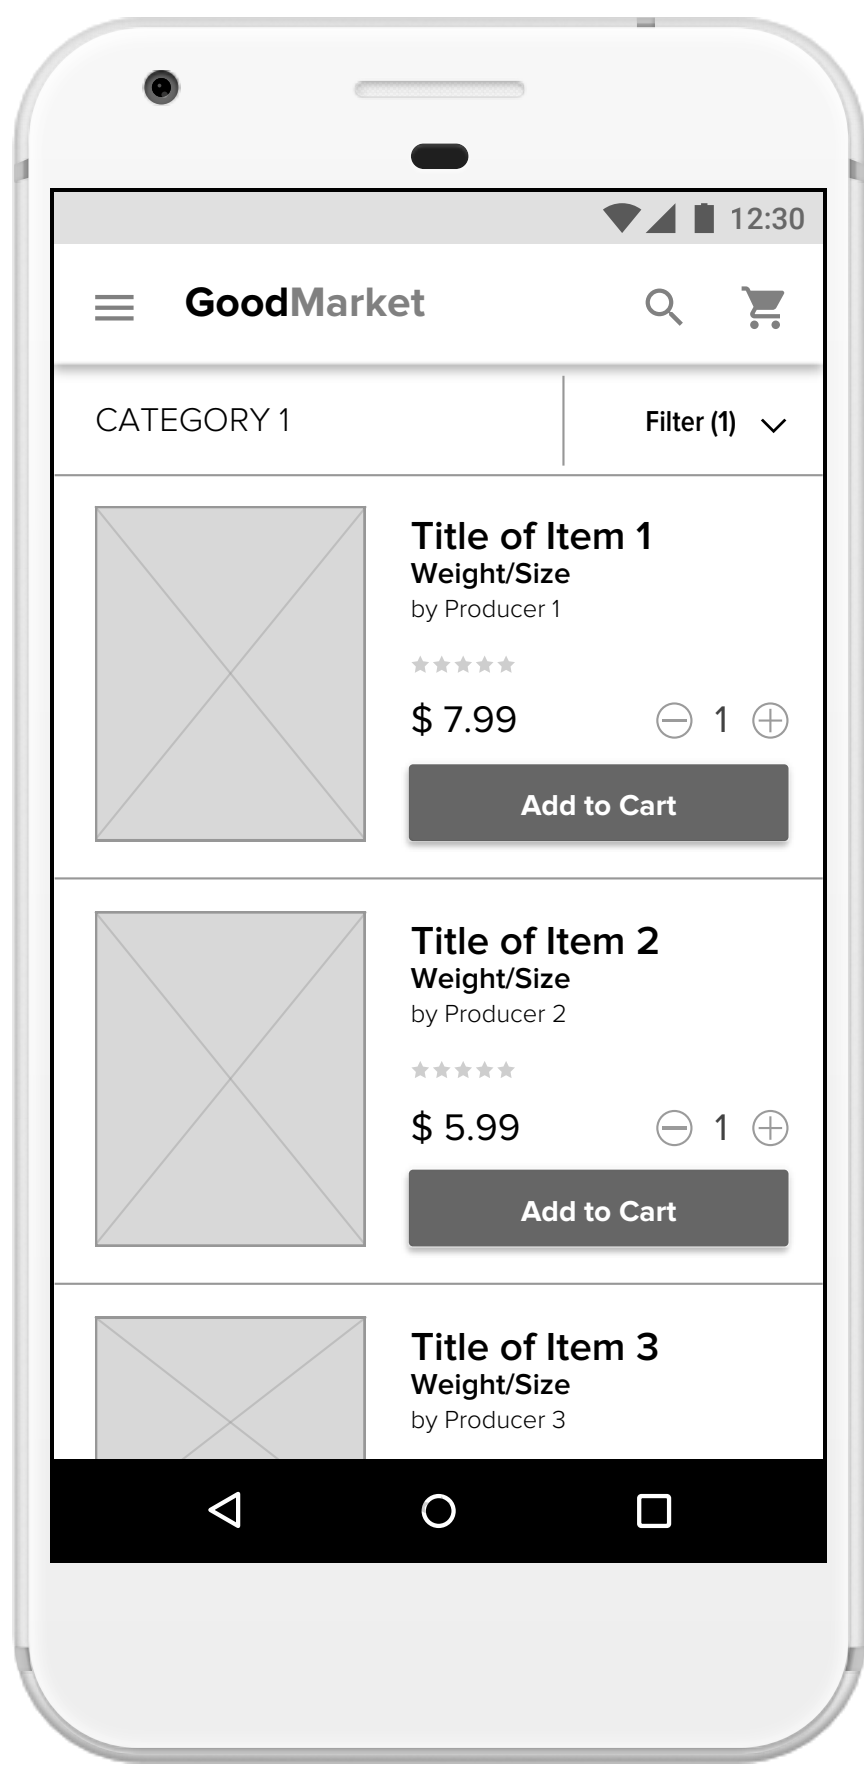

The top left hamburguer icon activates the full navigation menu, which can be back by sliding it from right to left. Menu includes all the categories of products and some navigation options.

Search by the Name

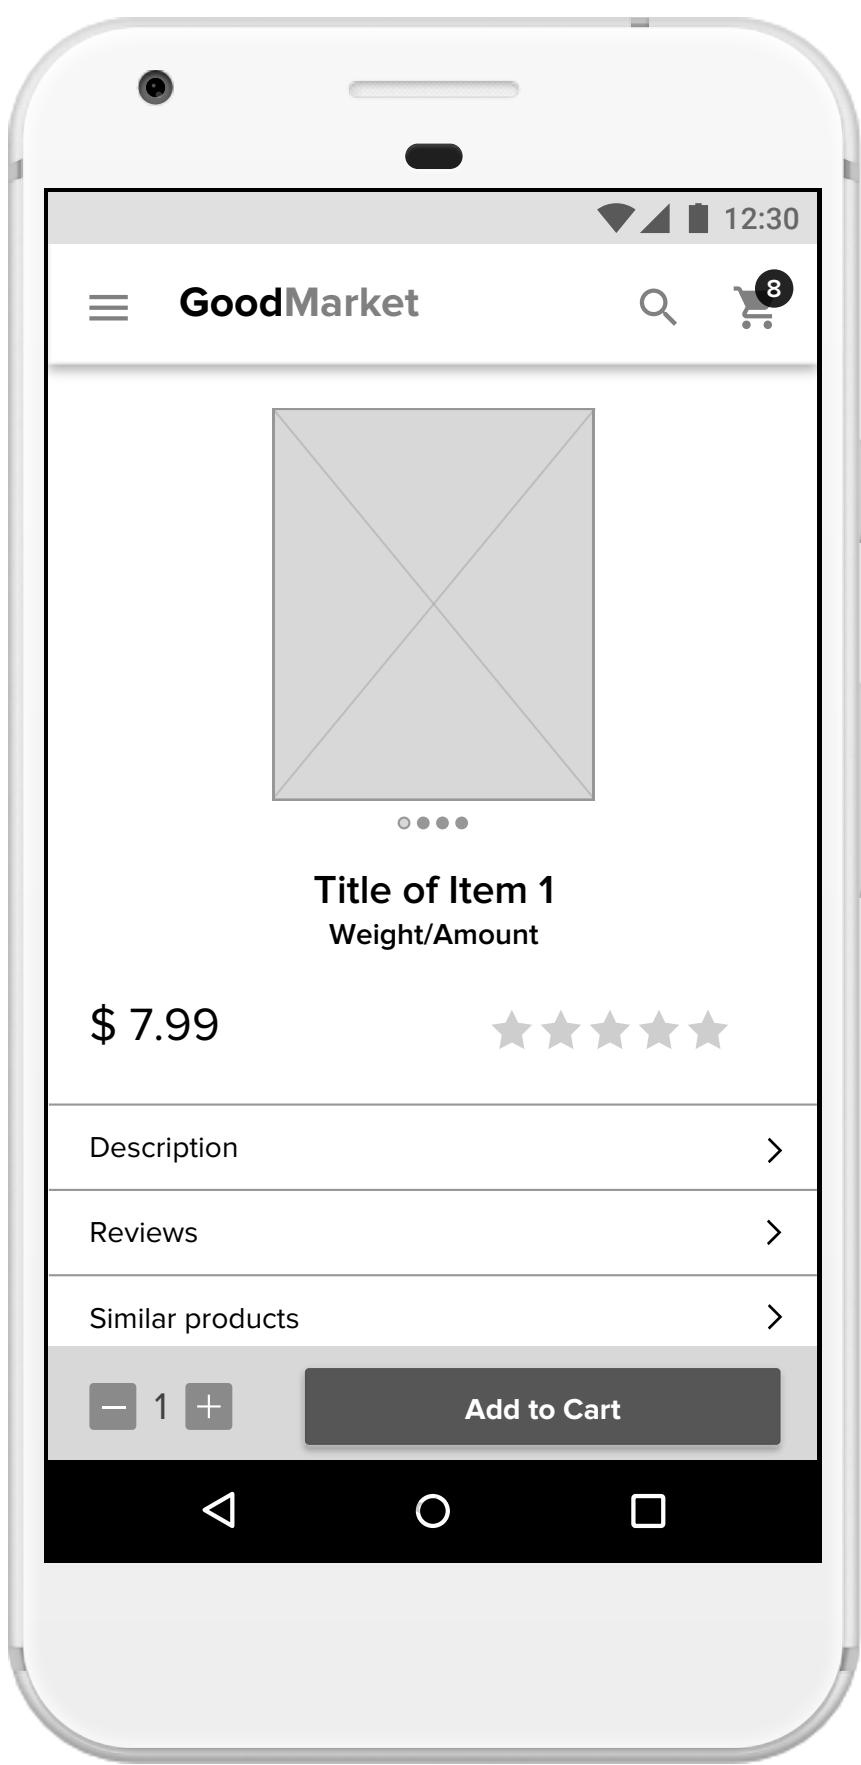

If customer knows a product's name they can search for it directly by clicking on the search icon.

List of Products

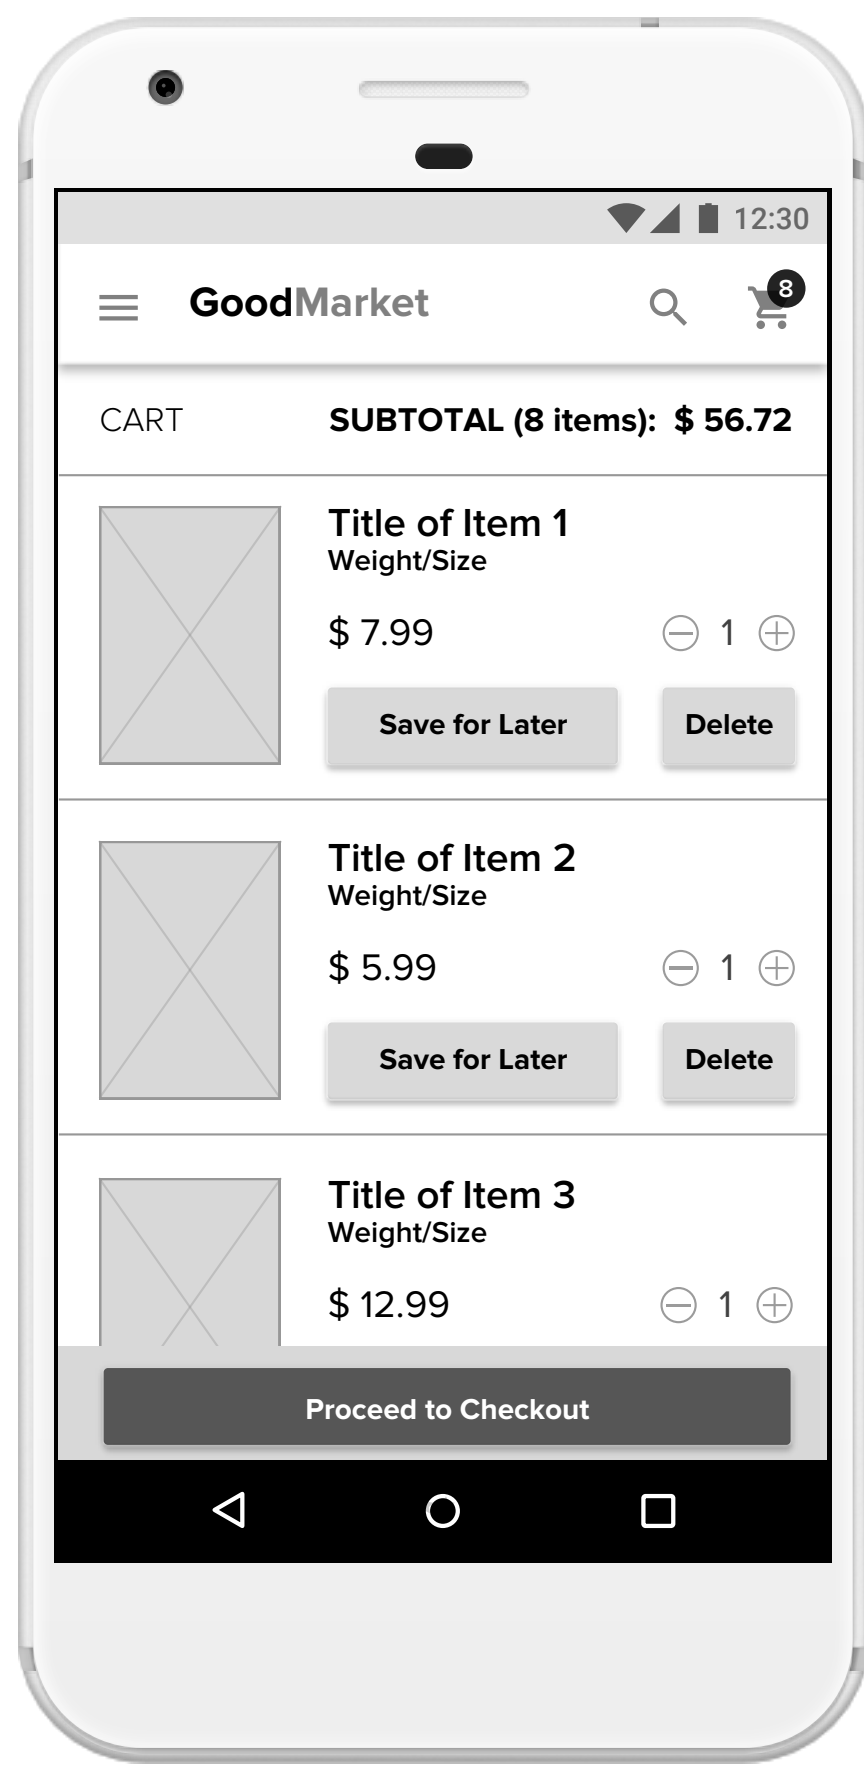

After choosing a category from Category Page, a user comes to a list of products of this category.

Product Detail Page

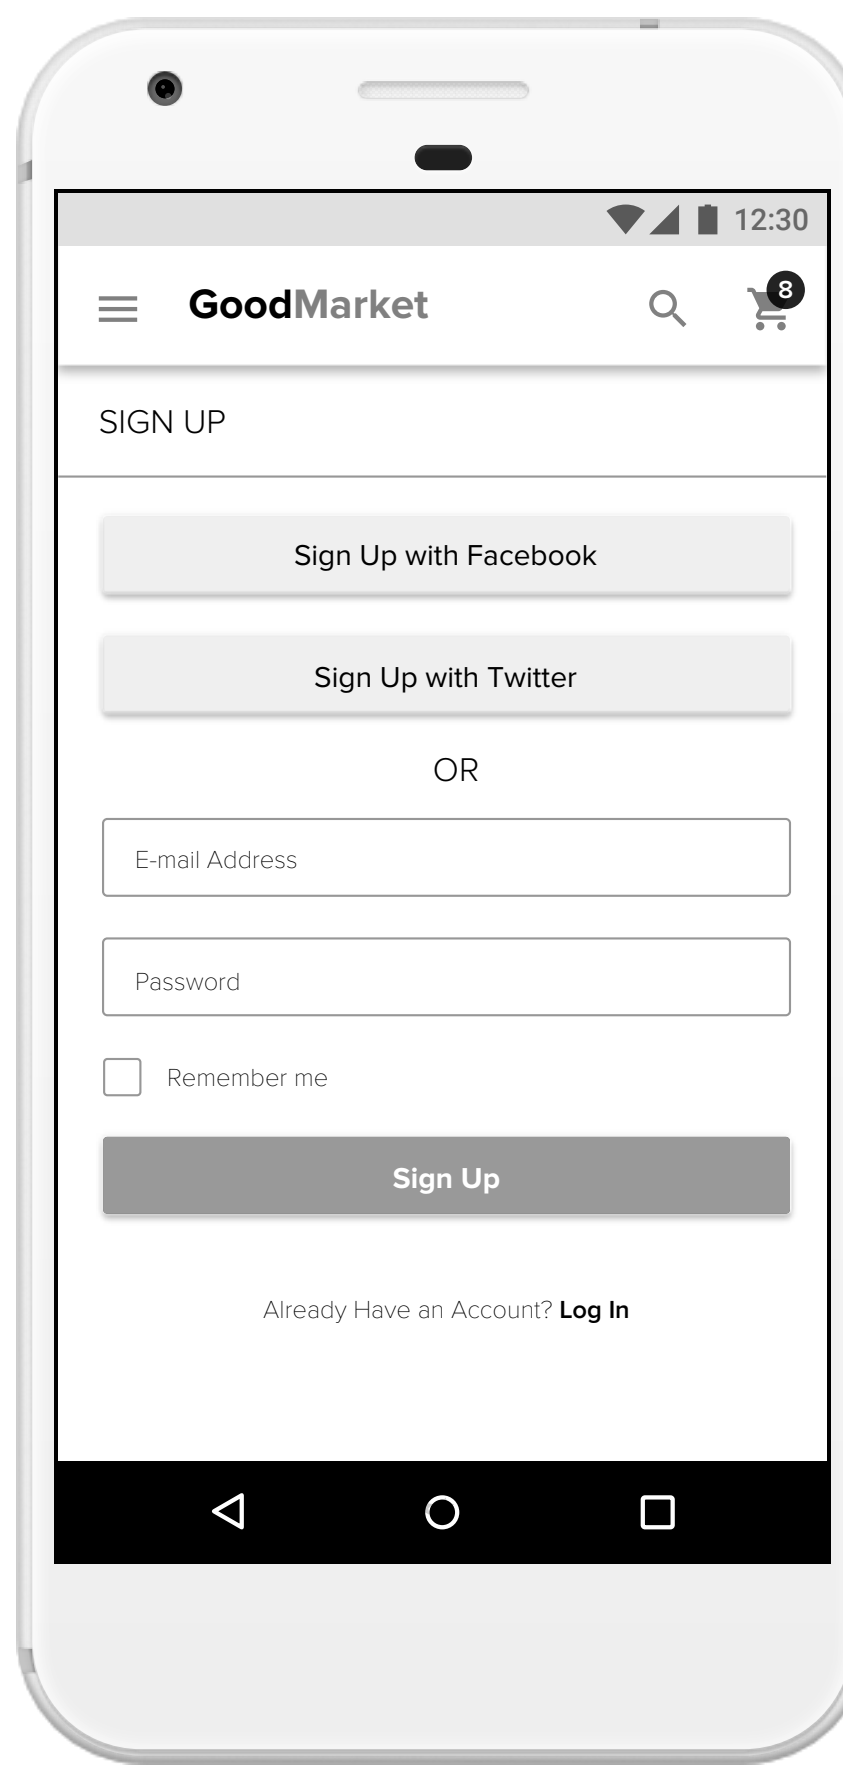

This page includes a few product's photos under different angle, price, rating. The full product's information, reviews, list of similar products appear as progressive disclosure.

Shopping Cart

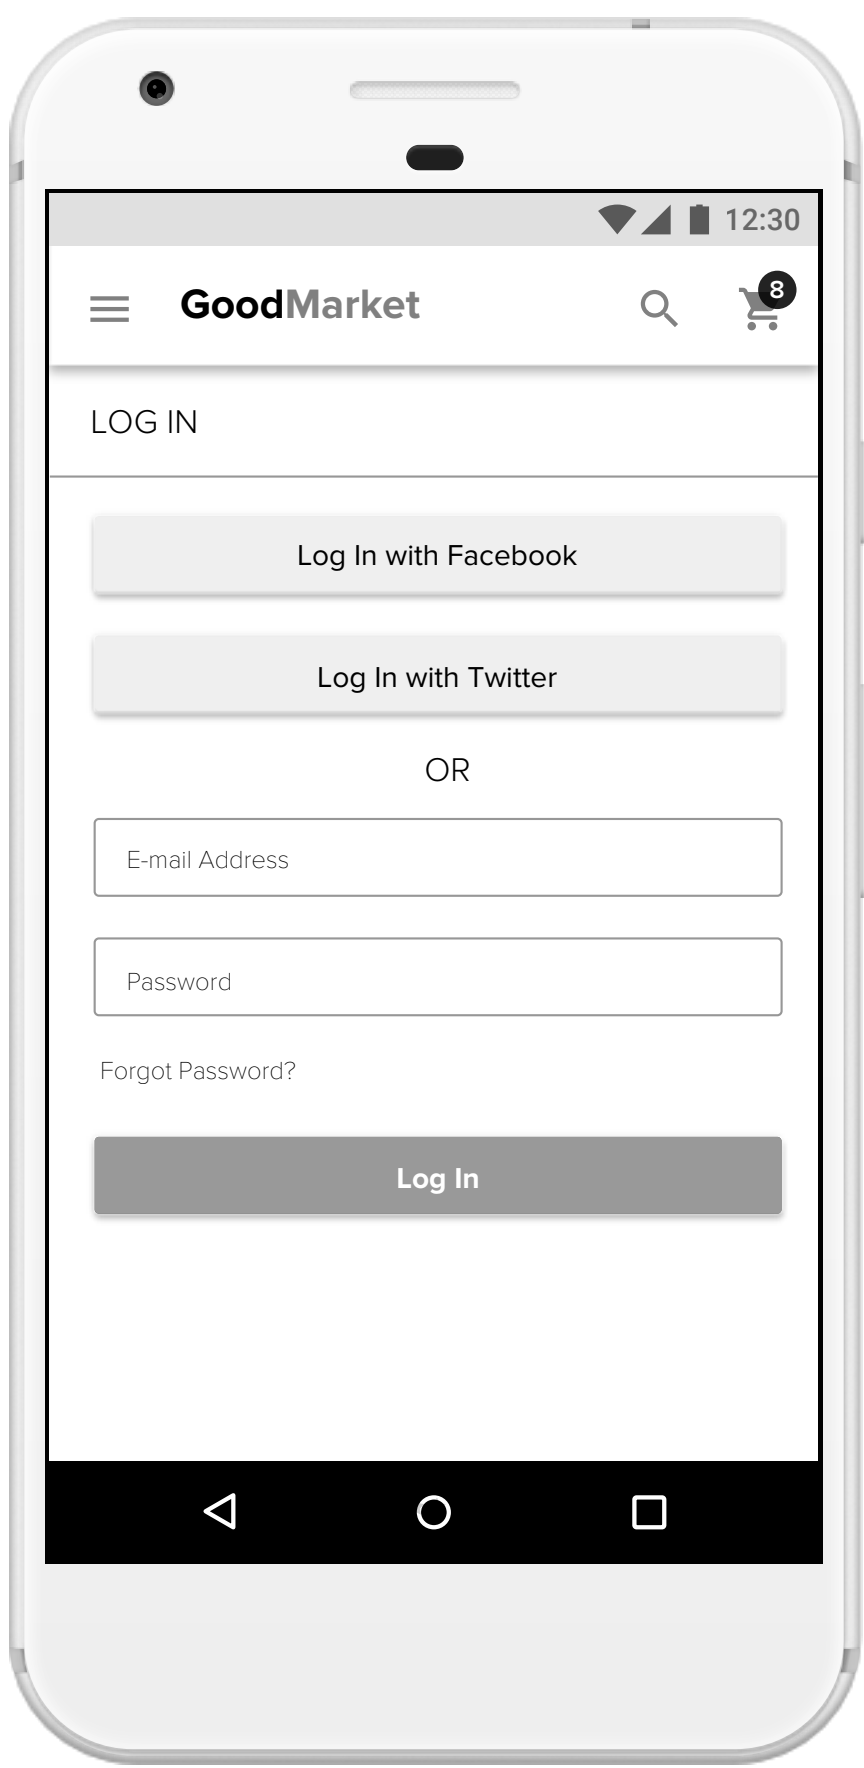

Clicking by the cart icon on the top right, customer comes to their shopping cart, where they can change item's quantity or delete it, and save the item for further purchases.

Sign Up Page

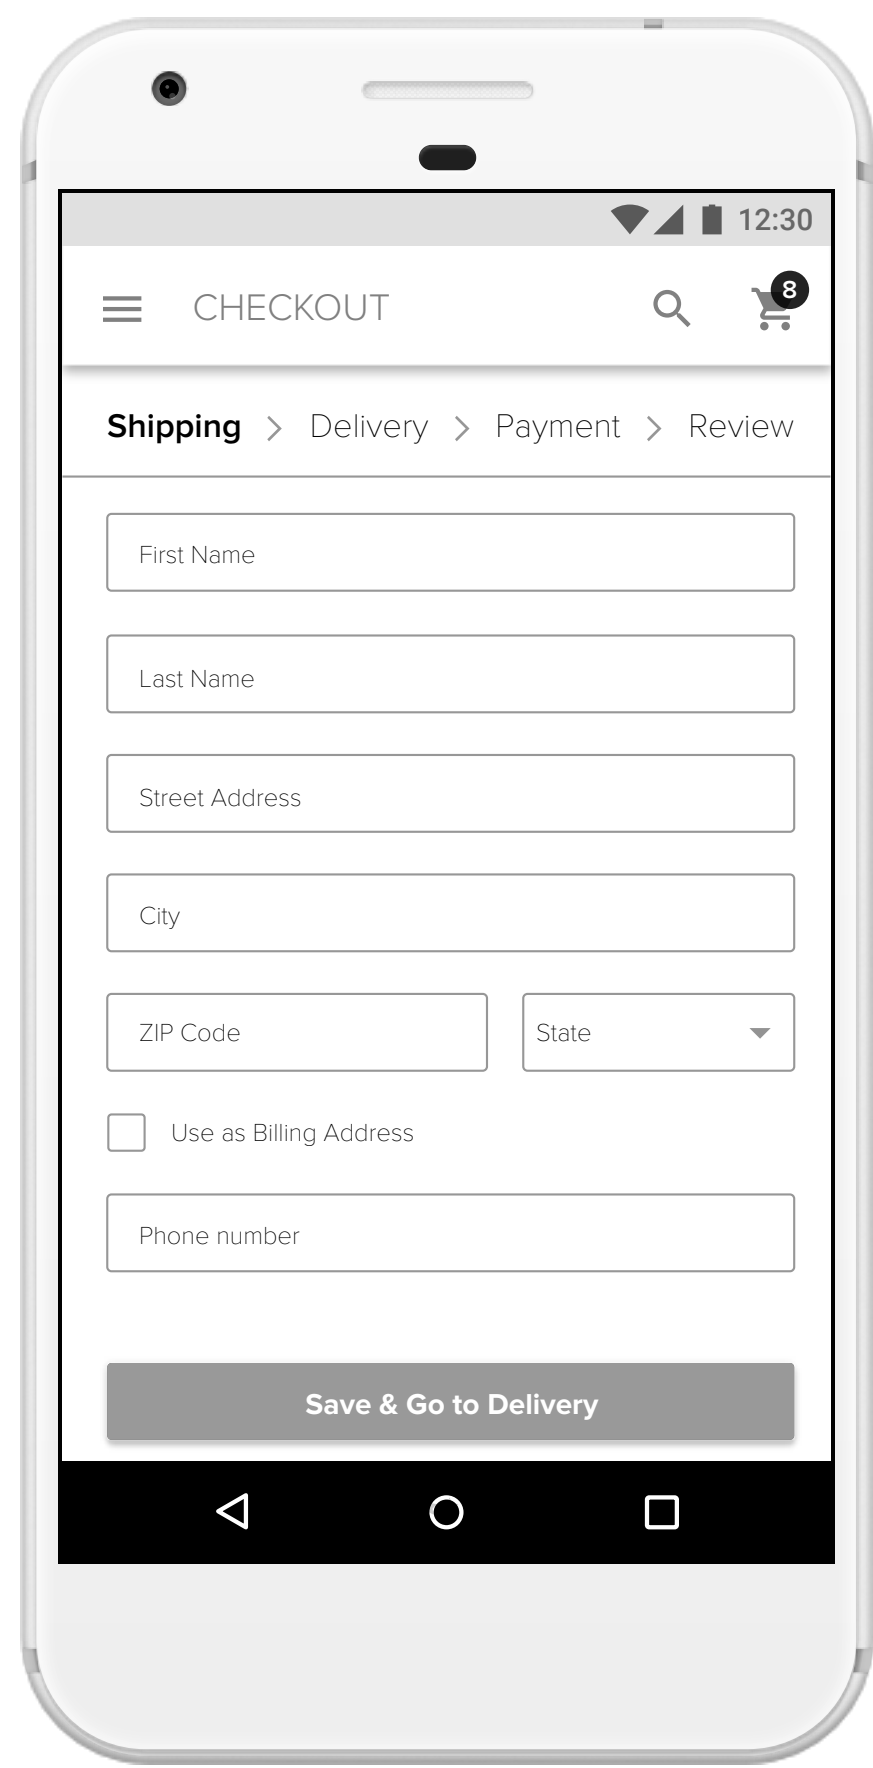

A user has three options to sign up - with their Facebook account, Twitter acc. or via email.

Log In Page

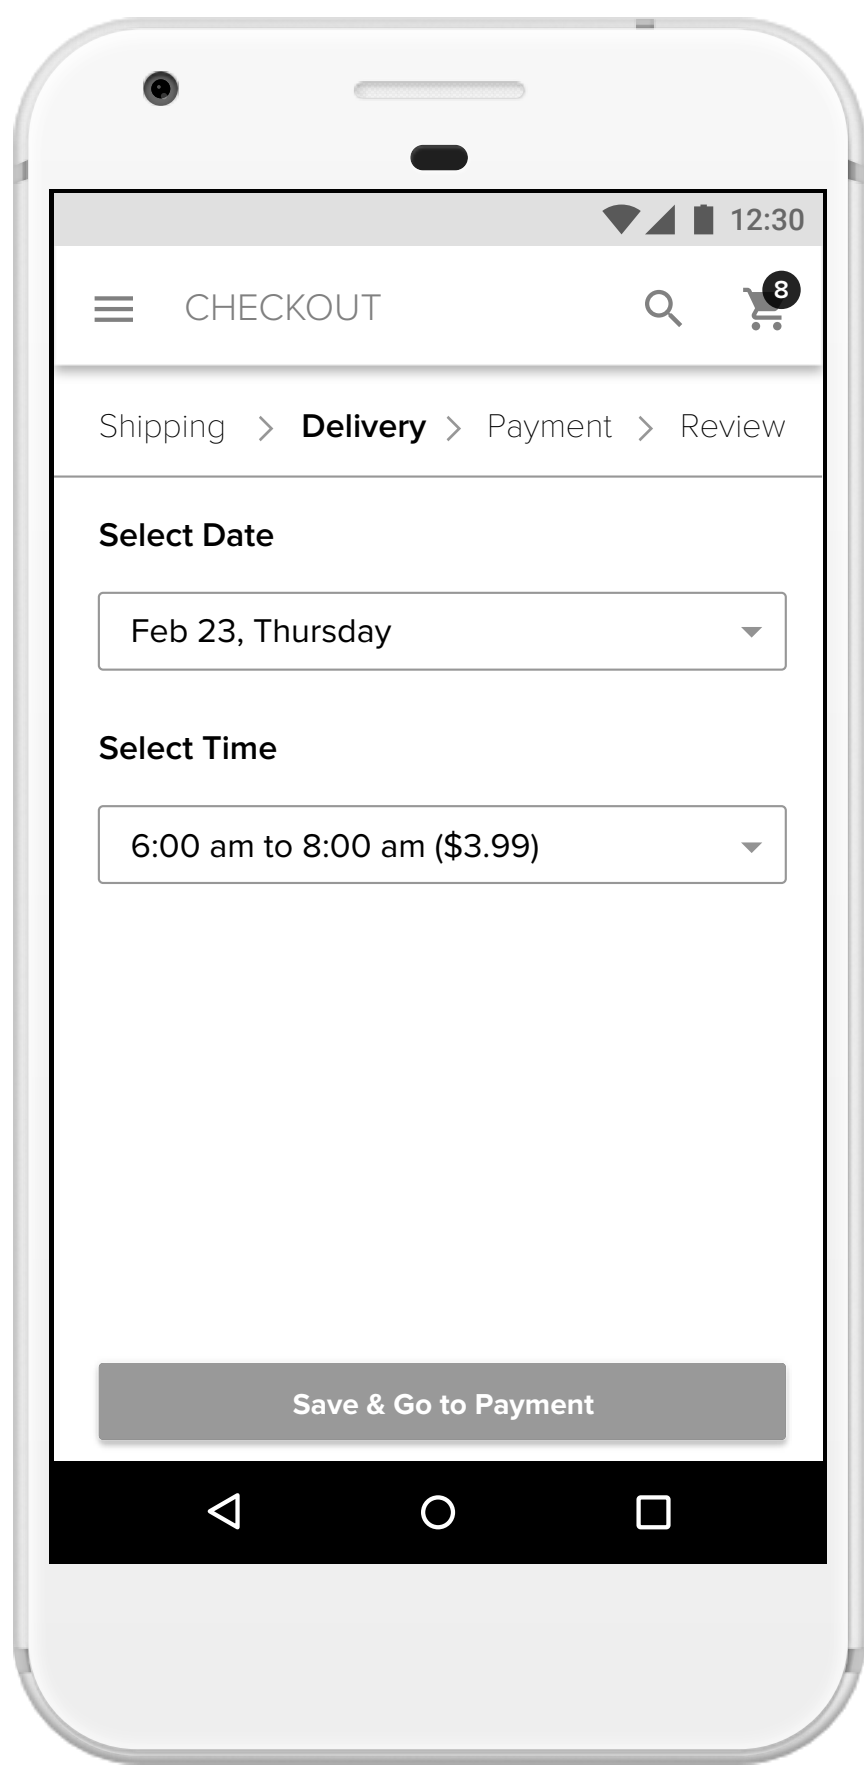

A user has three options to log in - with their Facebook account, Twitter acc. or via email.

Shipping Page

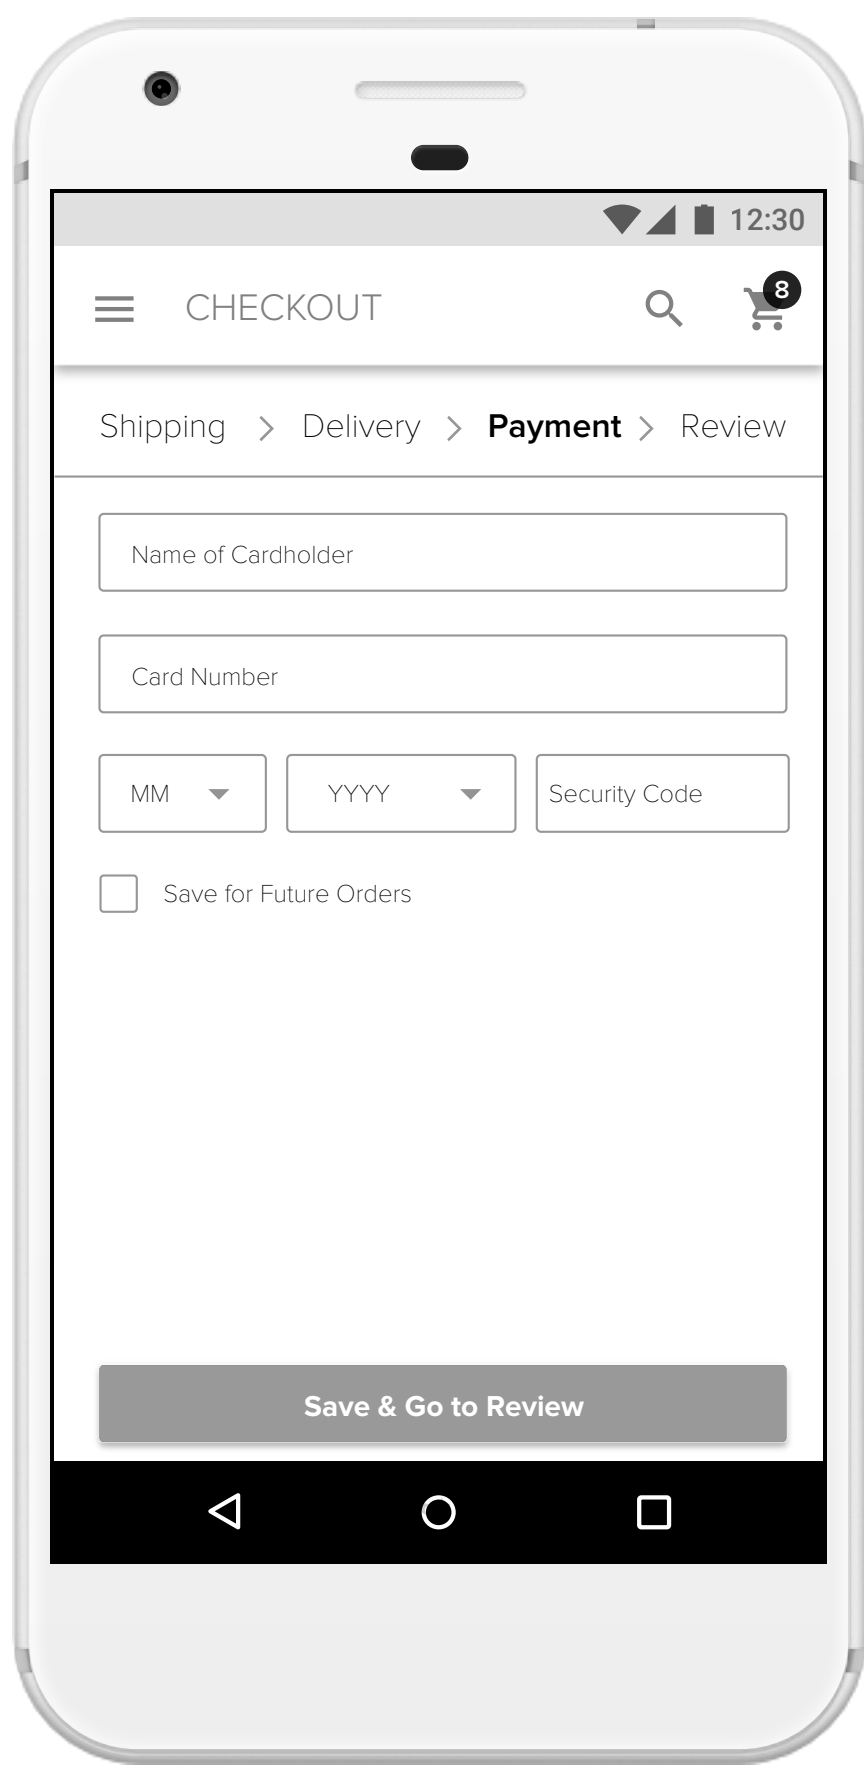

If a user is satisified with their cart and registered, they continues checkout process and inputs their shipping address

Delivery Page

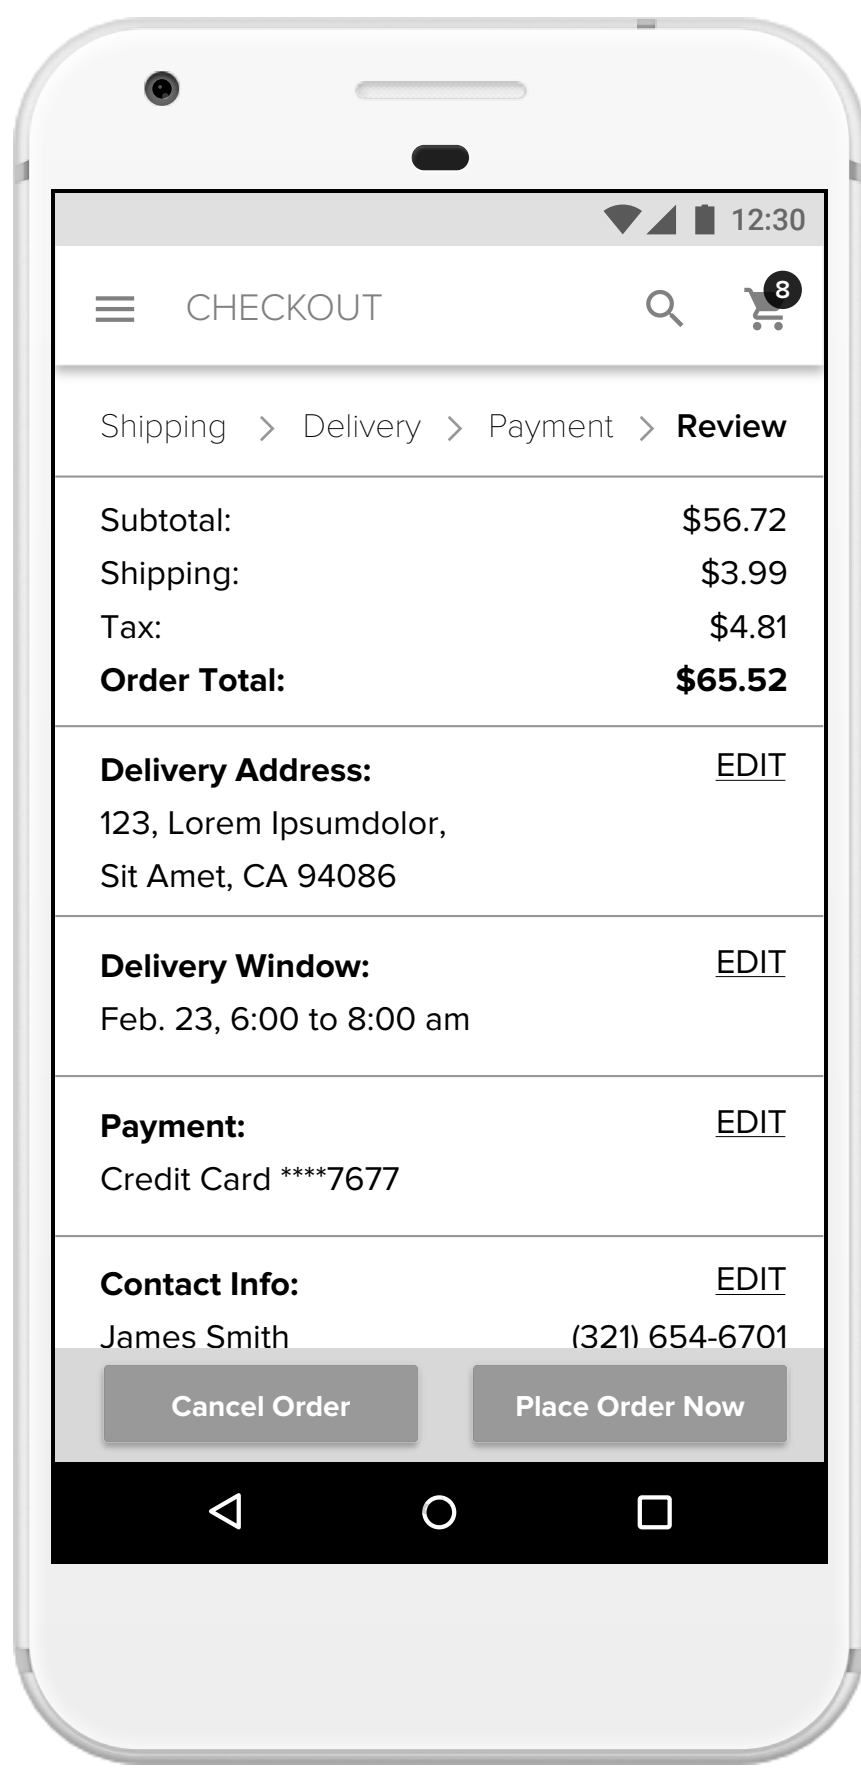

A user can choose an available date and time.

Payment Page

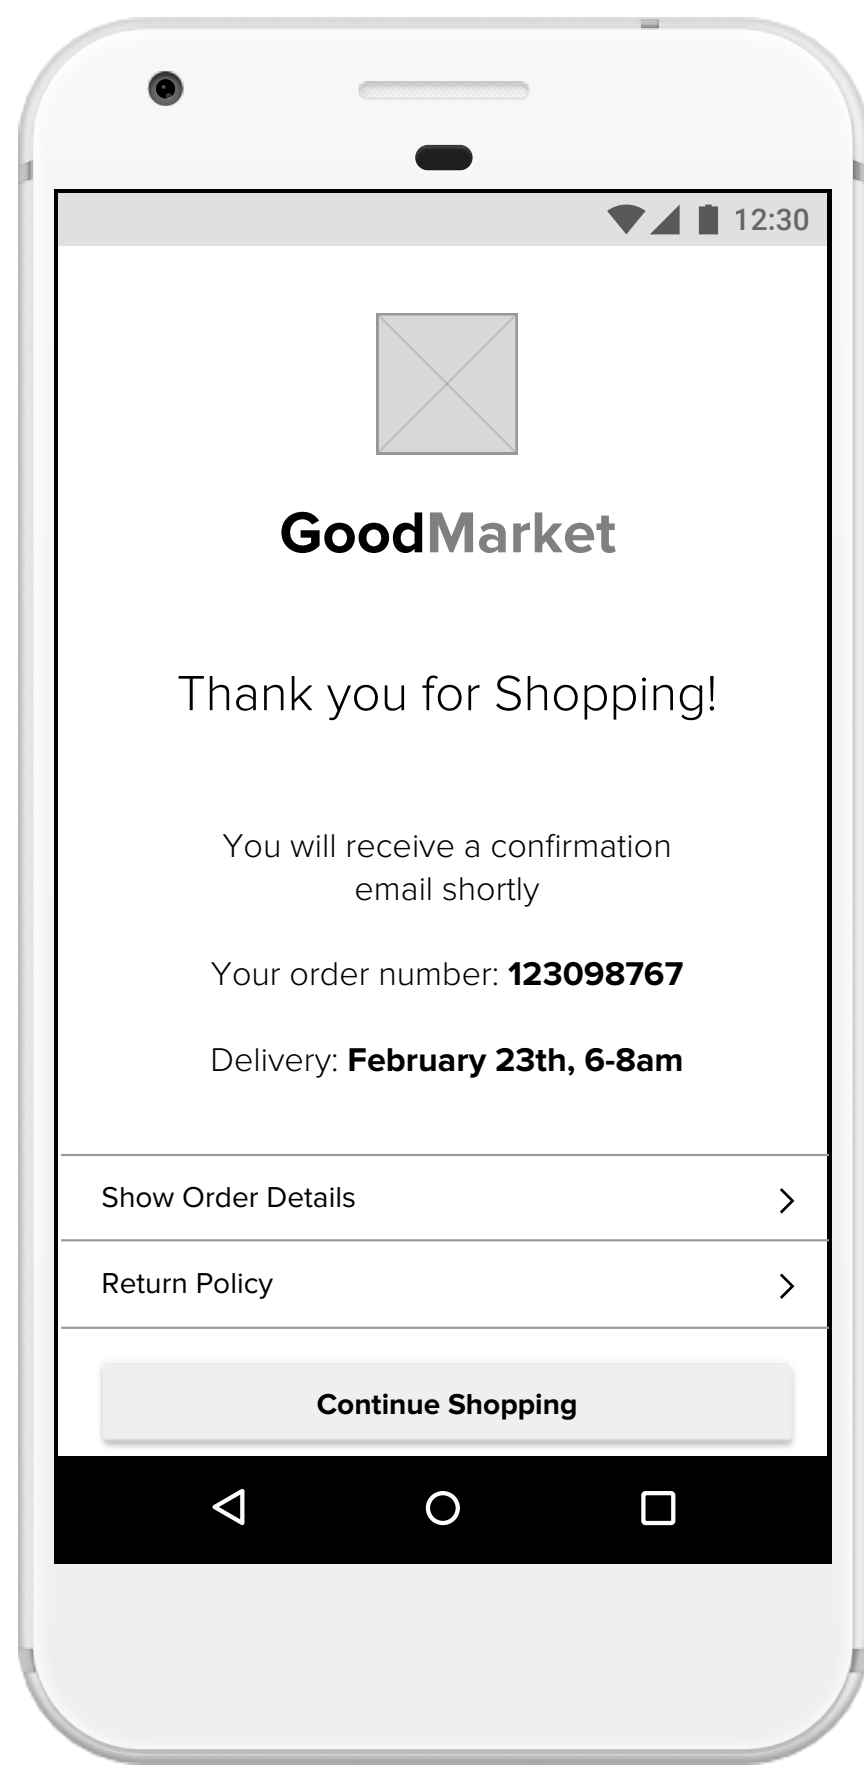

A user has to input a payment information.

Review Page

This is the last step of checkout. A user can check their order, delivery address, date and time, payment info, contact info. Also they can edit any entered information. After that a user can place their order or delete it.

Confirmation Page

This is the final step of shopping. A user can see their order number, delivery window, a confirmation that their order has been placed. Order details and return police appear as progressive disclosure. Also they can be encouraged to continue shopping.